Welcome

We thank you for booking with Immediate Response First Aid (IRFA) or our training partner and look forward to training you. Please take the time to read this handbook as it will provide you with information on what to expect from your first aid course as well as your rights, responsibilities and IRFA's policies. As a Registered Training Organisation, IRFA has agreed to operate within the Principles and Standards of the Australian Quality Training Framework. IRFA strives to provide quality training to individuals and groups with the intent of improving first aid awareness, knowledge and skills. We encourage the use of first aid in the home, at recreation and in the workplace with the aim of reducing the incidence of injury and suffering caused by accidents. We are constantly upgrading our own knowledge to reflect best practice and to be able to impart this to our clients in a practical and efficient manner. Our courses are developed to meet the needs of individuals and businesses and ensure that qualified and experienced trainers are selected to conduct our courses.

2. Pre-Course Preparation

If you have difficulties with any aspect of your pre-course workbook do not worry, as all elements will be covered during the course. Please also feel free to contact us for assistance. IRFA provides encouragement and support to all students; however, all participants have a responsibility to make every effort to maintain satisfactory progress in their training.

3. Enrolment and Prerequisites

Our courses require participants to be 14 years or older or have the written permission of a parent or legal guardian. Other details may be required to ascertain a participant's suitability for a course and confirmation of their identity. Access to the course is open to all subject to the payment of fees, availability and the extent to which the course outcomes and pre-requisites match the needs of an individual.

4. Reading, Learning and Other Difficulties

If you have any difficulties with reading, learning or any other difficulty such as physical ailment your trainer will assist you in every way possible to achieve success on the course. If possible please advise us of any concerns prior to the course. IRFA would like to ensure all students are given appropriate support and encouraged to pursue their vocational education and training goals through participation in courses offered. If your needs exceed IRFA's capacity we are happy to assist you further and refer you to an appropriate external agency where you can seek support.

5. Course Assessment

Trainers will deliver courses to meet Australian Quality Training Framework (AQTF) Standards required by approved Registered Training Organisations. You will be assessed as Competent or Not Yet Competent by your trainer (please note that partial credits will be accorded where applicable). IRFA understands that not all participants learn in the same manner, and we will do our best to meet individual needs as required. Assessment as a first aider is achieved by practical and theory assessment. Should you be assessed as Not Yet Competent you are given two additional attempts to become competent at no charge. If after these attempts you are still deemed Not Yet Competent then you will need to repeat the course / unit at your own expense.

Requirements for Completion: 100% attendance and participation. All criteria including any pre-course workbooks, theory exams and practical assessments must be met before you can be deemed as Competent and issued with your Statement of Attainment.

Theory Assessment: Includes any online pre-course and multiple-choice theory exams. To be marked Competent you need to achieve 100% i.e. all answers correct. If you achieve more than 80% on the theory exam on the course you will be eligible for an immediate resit, however if you achieve less than 80% you will be marked as Not Yet Competent and will need to attend another training session (assessment may be oral if required).

Practical Assessment: Practical assessment includes CPR, bandaging, handling of a conscious and unconscious casualty and scenario/role plays. This may involve work on the floor, so advise your trainer if you have any physical disability or injury that needs consideration. If you are marked as Not Yet Competent you will be given a second opportunity to perform the assessment. If you are then still Not Yet Competent you will need to attend another training session.

6. Assessment Appeals

All participants have the right to appeal against an assessment decision. Any appeal related to assessment must be lodged within the appeal period, that being within five (5) working days after course completion. IRFA ensures that all assessment appeals and grievances are dealt with in a fair manner. Students must outline their appeal and forward it to IRFA management for review. The appeal will be dealt with in a timely manner with the results being forwarded to the student in writing. If the student is not happy with the result IRFA will willingly seek independent mediation and/or referral to the appropriate governing or regulatory body where applicable.

7. Recognition of Prior Learning & Other Registered Training Organisations

In accordance with the Australian Qualifications Framework we recognise qualifications issued by other issuing authorities. We can also offer RPL to applicants who feel they meet some or all of the competencies. Application should be sought before attending a course. Please contact us for further information and to receive the appropriate application form.

8. Fees and Charges

IRFA fees are inclusive of all course costs including resources, equipment, pre-course information and certificates.

9. Refunds

- If a participant is not satisfied with the course content and delivery of a training course a refund will be given.

10. Incompletion of a Course

If a participant leaves prior to the completion of all assessment tasks during the face to face training, qualifications will not be issued and the participant will forfeit 100% of the course fee. IRFA will always take into consideration extenuating circumstances and may allow the participant to attend a future mutually acceptable course date.

11. Course Cancellation

IRFA may cancel a course where there are insufficient participant numbers. In the event of course cancellation, participants will be notified as soon as possible and refunded their full course cost or offered a new course on a mutually acceptable date.

12. Student Responsibilities and Code of Behaviour

It is the trainer's responsibility to ensure the comfort and safety of all students. The trainer has the right to evict a student in the first instance that displays disruptive or offensive behaviour, and/or is adversely drug or alcohol affected. It is the responsibility of all IRFA students to:

13. Course Evaluation & Feedback

IRFA is committed to the ongoing improvement of our training and services. To assist us with this, you will be asked to complete a Training Course Evaluation form. This is your opportunity to provide us with feedback on the course, trainer/s, enrolment process, facilities and equipment, training activities, materials and assessment procedures. Your comments are valuable to us and we thank you for your time in completing this evaluation form.
